Message Series - "Fixer Upper"

Have you ever lived in a maintenance-free home? If you are like most people, the houses and apartments in which you've lived have required repair, cleaning, and upkeep of all sorts. Just as there are no true maintenance-free houses, so are there no homes or families that don't need our careful attention on a regular basis.

This weekend we begin a new message series about families, entitled "Fixer Upper." God provides the tools we need to build healthy homes, filled with meaningful relationships, Christ-honoring marriages, and biblical priorities. Healthy homes don't happen by accident, however, but come instead as the result of hard work, diligent decisions, and biblical guidelines.

I trust you will join us each week as we consider God's guidelines for your home, and that you will allow Him to repair, renew, and refresh your home so that He can display you as a beautiful "Fixer Upper" made possible by His grace.

Parenting Workshop - Wednesday, August 16

As part of our emphasis on families this fall, we are hosting a one-night Parenting Workshop on August 16 with special guest Steve Parr. Author of the book, Why They Stay, Steve has uncovered some compelling data that shows why some young adults stay in church during adulthood and why some don't.

Additionally, Steve will share some of the steps that parents and grandparents can take to increase the likelihood that their children will remain strong in the faith as they grow into adulthood.

The Parenting Workshop will be in the Perry Fellowship that Wednesday 6:30 - 7:15pm. Come early for our midweek supper (normal costs apply), or simply arrive at 6:30pm for the start of the session. And don't forget to invite a friend and to bring a guest with you.
